

Winter Studies

They call December the most wonderful time of the year for a reason – this month is packed with holidays, joy and anticipation of the new year. However, those with chronic illnesses might not feel so merry this season. The good news is that there is hope. Olympian Clinical Research is hosting several clinical trials this month to help advance new treatments and enhance the quality of life for our patients. From dermatological conditions to mental health concerns, see if you qualify for one of our upcoming clinical trials below.
